

Sober Camp Weekend!

A Trusting Relationship Retreat

The Villa Desiderata welcomes friends to a weekend of reflection, renewal and fellowship.

April 22, 23 & 24, 2016

If you grew up in an alcoholic home, you may have difficulty forming trusting, intimate relationships with friends, family and loved ones. Is self-esteem or lack of trust affecting your relationships at home or at work? Learn more about these characteristics and how you may have been affected by growing up in an alcoholic or otherwise dysfunctional home.

This retreat will provide an energizing, fun, interactive and reflective program for anyone who would like support in their intimate relationships with family, friends and loved ones. Join us for a step-based weekend program designed to bring us together to share our experiences, strength and hope in building trusting, close relationships.

Experience a weekend of positive thinking; self-esteem building, stress free living and meditation. Our two smoke-free houses located on seven serene wooded acres overlooking the shores of the Pistakee Lake in McHenry Illinois and our meditative labyrinth all add to the serenity of your weekend. Activities include music, movie clips, quiet meditation, and small and large group workshops. The retreat is facilitated by Bob Schwantz. This is an Open Retreat – All are Welcome!
